A SERIOUS MAN

Joel and Ethan Coen return to their comedy roots with this original and darkly humorous story about one ordinary man's quest to become a serious man.

As a physics professor his life changes when his wife leaves him for his best friend. Apart from that, everything else seems to be collapsing around him.

Struggling to make sense of it all, he consults three different rabbis and their answers lead him on a twisted journey of faith, and family delinquent behaviour.

The title should not be taken too much to heart, as basically it's a funny film, with film critics saying it's 'seriously awesome'.

Free to Ralli Hall members & full-time students, otherwise £4.
